FOR PRESIDENT,

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

Maybe the price of Beveridge's activity is a prospective Vice Presidency. We'll see.

Champ Clark's houn' dwag is now yelping along the Presidential trail and, may be to the White House.

What is going to happen if Taft and Teddy should bump into each other? It wouldn't be healthy for either.

It's dollars to dough-nuts that parents will not be so keen henceforth to name their kids after Teddy Roosevelt.

As a 24-karat fake how are the 1912 presidential preferential primaries? They are free for all and anybody can vote in them.

Woodrow Wilson's fatal mixup with Marse Henry cost the schoolmaster—candidate Kentucky's vote in the Baltimore convention.

Hold-up men are relieving New Yorkers of their valuables. The victims now know how visitors feel after a trip to their metropolis.

For ninety per cent of the steam railway mileage of the United States the aggregate of the operating revenues for March showed an increase of $12,661,901 as compared with March, 1911. Operating expenses showed an increase of $12,152,394 and net operating revenue an increase of $509,507.

Should the Democratic party succeed in its efforts to put sugar on the free list, it is not improbable that Louisiana, the most rock-ribbed Democratic State of the Southland, will go Republican this fall. This, at any rate, is the threat of many Louisiana newspapers and of business men and planters. Louisiana has about $100,000,000 invested in its cane-sugar industry, and this, it is claimed, would suffer from free sugar equally with the cane-sugar industry of the North.—San Francisco Chronicle.

As a winner of the endurance stakes the Mississippi flood of 1912 takes the ribbon.

Some of the best informed interests believe that there will be only an irregular and generally inconsequential movement of prices in the market between now and the Republican and Democratic conventions. Unless something unforeseen develops, say these interests, there is little chance for a big break in prices.

A crabapple Christian, Jimmie, is one who mistakes gall for goodness and whose veins are filled with crabapple juice instead of blood.

He is hog-wild about hair-trigger points of A Crabapple Christian. denominational traditions and would rather see a man come into the church without a change of heart than without complying with some little point of sectarian etiquette which has about as much to do with real religion as a cold potato has with the east wind.

He is never a spiritual man, never a charitable man, never a man worth a dang to his community. What he gives to relieve distress would not buy a hummingbird a shirt.

What he does for the afflicted and discouraged would not make a speck the size of a pinhead if the efforts of his entire life were boiled down and concentrated in one tangible mass. He preaches the gospel of peace on earth and practices those things that produce strife, discord and dissension. It he cannot rule the organization to which he belongs he sets about to accomplish its ruin.

Sometimes he is a layman. Other times he is a pinhead who has been elected into the pulpit through some unfortunate combination of circumstances. That they have been able to get a patient hearing in times past has been due to the mistaken notion that true religion and undefiled consisted in doing things sensible men now know have absolutely nothing to do with man's usefulness in this world or his salvation in the world to come.—Paris (Mo.) Appeal.

"Why?"

"She kept raising the price of forgiveness."

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE Agrees With Him About Food

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I毫不犹豫地 recommend it to all my patients."

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick) and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when the deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find Grape-Nuts and albumin water very nourishing and refreshing. This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice or flavoring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assimilate without any distress."

"My husband is a physician and he uses Grape-Nuts himself and orders it many times for his patients."

"Personally I regard a dish of Grape-Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for any one—well or sick." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

In any case of stomach trouble, nervous prostration or brain fog, a ten days trial of Grape-Nuts will work wonders toward nourishing and rebuilding, and in this way ending the trouble. "There's a reason" and trial proves.

Says that the wet spell is over and we will now be permitted to enjoy spring. Kind of him, isn't it? Well, nearly everybody likes to "spruce up" in spring; repair the porches, put up screens, put a window in a dark room or maybe put in a new front door. It makes no difference whether it's a single board or an entire building we can furnish it.

Memorial
Day
By
Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr.
*****

Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., jurist, was born in Boston, Mass., March 8, 1841. He received his education at Harvard university, where he received the degree of A. B. in 1861 and LL. B. in 1862. In 1866 he received the degree of M. A. in 1867, and in 1869 the degree of D. C. L. from Oxford. He served three years in the 28th Mass. volunteers as Lieutenant and Lieutenant colonel; was wounded in the neck at Antietam, Sept. 17, 1864, and in the foot at Marye's Hill, Fredericksburg, May 3, 1865. After graduation from M. A. in 1867, became professor of law at Harvard law school in 1882, was associate justice from 1882 to 1899; chief Justice from 1899 to 1902 in the supreme court of Massachusetts and associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States Dec. 4, 1902. (From an address before John Sedgwick Post No. 4, G. A. R., Keene, N. H., May 30, 1884.)

OMRADES, some of the associations

of this day are not only triumphant,

but joyful. Not all of those with whom we once

stood shoulder to shoulder—not all of those whom we once loved and revered—are gone. On this day we still meet our companions in the freezing winter bivouacs and in those dreadful summer marches where every faculty of the soul seemed to depart one after another, leaving only a dumb animal power to set the teeth and to persist—a blind belief that somewhere and at last there was rest and water. On this day, at least, we still meet and rejoice in the closest tie which suffering has made indis-soluble for better, for worse.

When we meet thus, when we do honor to the dead in terms that must sometimes embrace the living, we do not deceive ourselves. We attribute no special merit to a man for having served when all were serving. We know that if the arms of our war did anything worth remembering, the credit belongs not mainly to the individuals who did it, but to average human nature. We also know very well that we cannot live in associations with the past alone, and we admit that if we would be worthy of the past, we must find new fields for action or thought, and make for ourselves new careers. But, nevertheless, the generation that carried on the war has been set apart by its experience. Through our great good fortune, in our youth our hearts were touched with fire. It was given to us to learn at the outset that life is a profound and passionate thing. While we are permitted to scorn nothing but indifference, and do not pretend to undervalue the worldly rewards of ambition, we have seen with our own eyes, beyond and above the gold fields, the snowy heights of honor, and it is for us to bear the report to those who come after us. But, above all, we have learned that whether man accepts from fortune her spade, and will look downward and dig, or from aspiration her axe and cord, and will scale the ice, the one and only success which it is his to command is to bring to his work a mighty heart.

Such hearts—ah me, how many!

were stilled 20 years ago; and to us who remain behind is left this day of memories. Every year—in the fulliness of spring—the symphony of flowers and love and life —there comes a pause, and through the silence we hear the lonely pipe of death. Year after year lovers wandering under the apple boughs and through the clover and deep grass are surprised with sudden tears as they see black veiled figures stealing through the morning to a soldier's grave.

Year after year the comrades of the dead follow, with public honor, procession and commemorative flags and funeral march—honor and grief from us who stand almost alone, and have seen the best and noblest of our genius pass away.

There was a time when my kidneys were badly disordered and I was annoyed by many symptoms of kidney complaint. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wood & Son's Drug Store, corrected my trouble and my good health since then is evidence of their merits. ## Do You Want Your Money's Worth?

The next time an automobile salesman tries to sell you a car at a discount, tell him that the old "something for nothing" story can't fool you.

The best automobiles in the world are sold for their list price, not a penny less. They are worth it. But the lame ducks, the second rates, the nondescript and assembled automobiles are in the public market looking for the highest bidder. Look out they don't get you. If gold-brick cars are not worth their list price, how much are they worth? Nobody knows. Cut price deals are frauds.

But if you want a car of one price to all and worth every cent of it, get either a Studebaker E-M-F "30," $1100, or Flanders "20," $800. You can trust them. You get all that you pay for, and that is more than you get with any other car at near their price. Studebaker guarantees them—that's the big reason. No matter what price temptation falls in your way, Studebaker E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars are far bigger bargains, because in years of good service and satisfaction they pay big returns.

We can prove it—Send for our new catalogue

As Maysville makes the best showing of any city in Kentucky, it proves that we have the best waterworks system and the best Fire Department—the auto-system—in the state.

Fifty-two alarms and only $2,432 loss is certainly a record for 10,000 people.

ANOTHER CHAPTER IN TITANIC TRAGEDY

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Blame for the Titanic disaster is chargeable directly to the failure of the dead Captain Smith to heed repeated warnings of iceberg ahead, but responsibility for unnecessary loss of life must be shared by Captain Lord of the steamer California, through his disregard of distress signals. This is the finding of the Senate Committee which investigated the sinking of the Titanic, as prepared in a comprehensive speech delivered today by William Alden Smith of Michigan, Chairman of the Committee.

Senator Smith declared that responsibility also rests upon the British Board of Trade, "to whose laxity of regulation and hasty inspection the world is largely indebted for the awful fatality." In denouncing Captain Lord of the California, the Senator said the Titanics distress signals were plainly seen from the deck of his vessel a short distance away. America will leave to England the chastisement of those guilty, asserted the Senator, and he quoted British law to show that Captain Lord might be prosecuted for a misdemeanor.
